A Letter from Chad Brue

Aloha,

As I reflect on the past six months and look ahead to the many opportunities before us, I'm filled with immense gratitude for the land that sustains us, the people who inspire us, and the community that continues to welcome us.

At Brue Baukol Capital Partners, our work on Kaua'i is about more than just real estate. It's about building lasting relationships, honoring place and culture, and giving back in meaningful ways. This inaugural annual report is a chance to share the impact of our philanthropic efforts across the island, and to celebrate the values of connection, respect, and community that shape what we do here.

Our collective commitment to community takes shape in powerful ways. Kukui'ula Development and McBryde Resources invested time and funds to support Kaua'i nonprofits nurturing children and families, protecting the island's cultural and environmental treasures, and enhancing the quality of life for Kaua'i residents.

The generosity of our Kukui'ula members is remarkable. Philanthropic members donate to The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund, which aims to make a positive difference in the lives of Kaua'i youth. Members also allocate dollars to the Kōkua Fund, an employee-directed fund designed to encourage volunteerism and giving back to nonprofit organizations in which Kukui'ula team members are involved. In the first half of the year, members have already raised over $350,000.

This impact didn't happen by chance — it was driven by people. The generosity of Kukui'ula members, the insight of our advisory boards, the dedication of nonprofit partners, and the steadfast support of our staff made every grant, every event, and every partnership possible. Together, intention turned into action, and action into the opportunity to make a meaningful impact.

I'm proud of the work our entire Kauai'i 'ohana has done and even more proud of the heart behind it. Whether partnering with community leaders and local nonprofits or rolling up our sleeves to serve, we approach each opportunity with a commitment to enact positive change in our community.

As we look to the future, we remain committed to listening, learning, and doing our part to support a thriving Kaua'i for generations to come.

Kukui'ula Development & McBryde Resources Charitable Program

Kukui'ula and McBryde Resources are a community committed to giving back. Starting with development-funded giving, the Kukui'ula Development and McBryde Resources Charitable Program (KDCP) supports local nonprofits in education, health and wellness, culture and arts and community. Each quarter, a committee of Brue Baukol Capital Partners, McBryde Resources, and Kukui'ula Development employees review applications and award donations aligned with the program's philanthropic focus. Kukui'iula Development and McBryde Resources team members are also active participants in annual fundraisers for the Kaua'i Visitor Industry Charity Walk and Kaua'i United Way. Many of Kukui'ula Development and McBryde Resources employees regularly volunteer with their children's schools, sports teams, churches and more in our community.

Educating, Engaging and Empowering Students

Kukui‘ula’s partnership has been instrumental in helping Kōloa Elementary advance its mission to “Educate, Engage and Empower Everyone Everyday.” Through annual funding, volunteerism and community integration, Kukui‘ula strengthens both student learning and family engagement.

For the past two years, grants from Kukui‘ula Development and McBryde Resources Charitable Program have provided supplies for the Great Artist Program, helping students engage with six iconic artworks annually. This initiative not only builds critical thinking and communication skills but also creates over 100 volunteer opportunities, reinforcing a strong sense of ‘ohana. As Leila Kobayashi, Complex Area Superintendent and former Principal at Kōloa Elementary School, shared, “The Great Artist Program allows students to be creative, think critically and develop their problem-solving skills.”

Kukui‘ula also plays a key role in Kōloa Elementary School’s signature fundraiser, the Duckathlon, a student-led obstacle course event that raises $40,000–$50,000 each year to support campus improvements, field trips, teacher resources and student incentives. The contribution covers custom t-shirts for every participant and helps sustain this tradition of school spirit and community involvement.

As Kobayashi notes, “There’s nothing more rewarding than knowing we’re having a positive impact on children’s lives.”

Kukui‘ula’s commitment enables Kōloa Elementary to provide meaningful experiences that shape confident, connected learners.

Restoring a Sacred Cultural and Historical Site

Just mauka from Poʻipū Beach Park in the heart of Kōloa, Kauaʻi is Kāhua O Kāneiolouma, a sacred cultural site and historic landmark. Considered wahi pana, a storied place, Kāneiolouma offers a glimpse into the past — an intricate system of walls and terraces trace the architecture of an ancient way of life with remnants of house sites, fishponds, loʻi kalo (taro fields), makahiki sporting arena and more.

"As long as I walk on this land, the mission is to complete the past so that we can have a future in our culture, so that we can share the sacred Kāneiolouma Heiau with the world and our island," said Rupert H. Rowe, Executive Director and Poʻo, Hui Mālama O Kāneiolouma.

"The support from Kukuiʻula has moved us closer to completing the dream of many people on the restoration of the Kāneiolouma Heiau. Recently, Kukuiʻula's generosity has helped print color brochures for hotels and island visitors, re-install the four Kiʻi after much-needed repairs in 2024, and began the clearing of debris from the Waiohai fishponds in 2025."

Driven by an enduring vision to protect, preserve and share Kāneiolouma as a public cultural preserve, Hui Mālama O Kāneiolouma has led the authentic restoration of this remarkable heritage site for more than a decade. Brue Baukol Capital Partners, Kukuiʻula Development and McBryde Resources are honored and privileged to support the continued restoration of this cultural gem.

"Hui Mālama o Kāneiolouma's steadfast commitment to restoring this special place provides a living link to Hawaiian traditions, cultural practices and heritage we can all learn from," said Trinette Kaui, VP Land Assets & Community Relations, McBryde Resources. "The careful work of Lahainaluna students, Bishop Museum Surveyor Henry Kekahuna, the founding directors of Hui Mālama O Kāneiolouma Uncle Rupert Rowe, Uncle Billy Kaohelauliʻi, the late Uncle James Kimokeo, and all of their remarkable volunteers, whose dedication and intentional work pays tribute to those who have come before us and who still have much to teach us."

A Message from Trinette Kaui

As we look back on the first half of the year, I am filled with gratitude for the many ways our Brue Baukol Capital Partners, McBryde Resources and Kukuʻiula ʻohana have come together to give back to our Kauaʻi community.

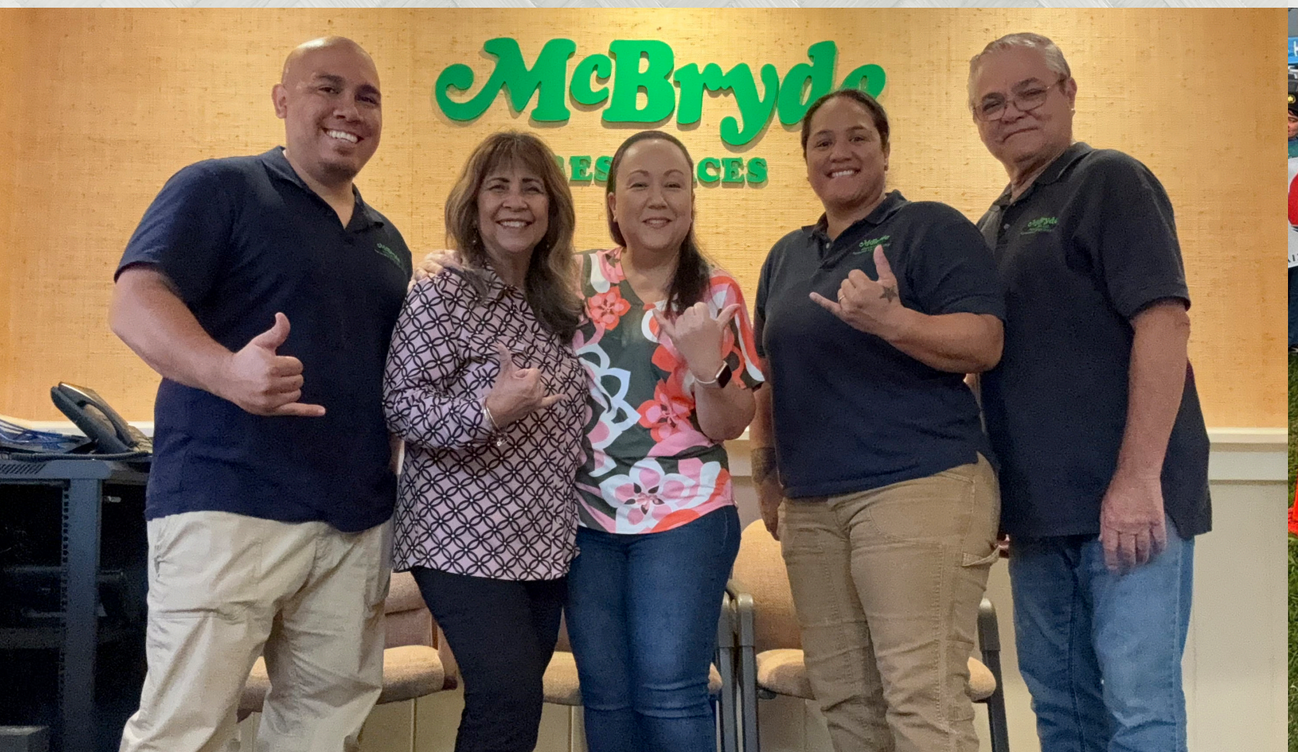

Guided by our commitment to stewardship, we have supported and uplifted local nonprofits that nurture keiki and families, strengthen the fabric of life on Kauaʻi and preserve our islandʻs culture and environment. Through grants, volunteerism and community partnerships, our collective efforts reflect a shared belief that caring for this place and its people is both our responsibility and our privilege.

I am proud of what we have accomplished together – and even more excited for what is ahead as we continue to listen, learn and give with aloha.

With much Aloha,

A Message from Darlene Yamase

Across the Brue Baukol Kauaʻi family of companies, employees are generous volunteers. From leading nonprofit boards to participating in community events, our team members actively show up to support their friends and neighbors.

Our employees also often rally support at work to give back to worthy causes, including annual fundraisers for the Kauaʻi Charity Walk and Kauaʻi United Way.

The heart of Kukuiʻula and McBryde Resources shines brightest through our team. We have so many colleagues who give selflessly to uplift the community we all call home, including some of the best bakers and crafters who generously provide goods for our various employee charitable sales events throughout the year. It's a team approach to supporting community, and we're in it together.

"Kukui'ula Development Charitable Program launched with great energy over twenty years ago, and its momentum in our community continues to grow. One of my favorite memories has been volunteering at Kōloa School — to read to students, donating kraft paper bags for their art projects showcased at The Shops at Kukui'ula and creating crown flower lei for the May Day Queens. These experiences have been joyful and impactful to both the students and our team.

We're also proud to support the Kōloa Fire Station by donating meals to their staff in appreciation of their service. This gesture is especially meaningful to me personally, as my son-in-law is a firefighter there.

Kukui'ula and BBCP share a commitment to community engagement and empowering individuals to make a difference. It's not just about how much we give, but how we make others feel."

"It has been an honor and a privilege to be part of the Kukui'ula family for nearly twenty-two years. What first impressed me about Kukui'ula was its strong commitment to the community. From the beginning, we were encouraged to give our time and resources to local organizations and work toward making a meaningful difference.

The generosity shown — both financially and through volunteer efforts — has been profound. Many charitable organizations continue to thrive because of Kukui'ula's support. I'm incredibly proud to call Kukui'ula my place of employment.

Thank you, Kukui'ula, for making a difference on our island and in our community."

Sharing our time and talent in support of our Kaua'i community

A Note from Richard Albrecht

What began as a shared vision for giving back to Kaua‘i has become a meaningful, sustained commitment to the island community we all cherish. Since 2020, The Club at Kukui‘ula Community Benefit Fund has inspired members to generously contribute to Kaua‘i, supporting a wide range of nonprofit organizations that provide programs and services to local youth. After some time, we recognized the importance of involving Kukui‘ula employees in giving back to the community and launched the Kōkua Fund, a member-funded, employee-driven effort to encourage volunteerism and support team members actively engaged in the community, with youth sports teams, hula instruction, activities, and much more.

In the last six months, our members and friends raised over $350,000 to distribute in grants. Each gift reflects our desire to cultivate a culture of stewardship and compassion to see Kaua‘i’s youth thrive, particularly on the south and west side of the island.

We believe that being part of the Kaua‘i community means more than simply enjoying its beauty — it means giving back and helping build a vibrant future for all youth who call Kaua‘i home.

On behalf of the Kukui‘ula Club members, it is our sincere pleasure to be part of this community, and we extend our sincere thanks to the organizations and individuals with whom we’ve been fortunate to partner and are making a difference on this extraordinary island.

With aloha,

Richard Albrecht

Spreading the Love at the Give from Your Heart Gala

On Valentine’s Day, The Club at Kukui‘ula Community Benefit Fund hosted the inaugural Give From Your Heart Gala, raising more than $350,000 to support youth development in South and West Kaua‘i. Members and friends gathered to learn more about the Benefit Fund, its impact and how to get involved.

“The generous donations represent the aloha spirit that defines our Kukui‘ula ‘ohana,” said Lissa Fickett. “Giving back is one of the most powerful ways we can express our gratitude for this place we are lucky to call home.”

"When I joined The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund Advisory Board several years ago, I quickly came to appreciate both the responsibility and the remarkable opportunity we had to broaden our support and include new 501(c)(3) organizations serving the most vulnerable keiki on the South and West sides of Kaua'i.

Since then, it has been a true honor and privilege to visit these organizations each year and witness firsthand their unwavering dedication to the children in our community.

The members of Kukui'ula have responded with incredible generosity to our calls for support. Their deep love for the island and its people is evident in their commitment to improving the lives and future opportunities of Kaua'i's children." — Dottie Sievert

"Serving on the Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund Advisory Board over the past several years has deepened my appreciation for the remarkable spirit of this community. These groups — many of which operate with limited resources — are dedicated to serving Kaua'i's youth through diverse, inclusive and impactful programs.

Sustainable funding remains a constant challenge for these organizations, which strive to offer services at little or no cost to participants. The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund has played a vital role in helping many of them continue their important work.

My involvement with the Fund has transformed my relationship with Kaua'i, allowing me to become an engaged member of the community, and what began as a volunteer opportunity has grown into a genuine passion. I find great fulfillment in sharing the stories of the programs we support and in encouraging fellow members to join our site visits, where they can witness firsthand the positive impact our contributions make.

Thanks to the generosity of Kukui'ula's members, countless non-profit organizations have enriched the lives of thousands of young people across South and West Kaua'i. We are deeply grateful for the continued support that makes this work possible." — Lissa Fickett

Empowering Youth to Reach Their Full Potential

"The Lihue Boys & Girls Club became my purpose. A place where I felt seen, valued, and loved. Today, I am happy with who I've become. It's because of you. You shaped my identity, gave me confidence and a reason to thrive."

Seventeen-year-old Nainoa Hirokane shared these words with Boys & Girls Club of Hawai'i staff and fellow members. Honored earlier this year as one of the organization's Youth of the Year finalists, Hirokane is headed to college with the goal of returning to Kaua'i as a pediatrician.

Nainoa's story is one of many. Every day, the Boys & Girls Club of Hawai'i helps young people discover who they are and what they're capable of — with safety, support, and aloha at the core of everything it does.

As a beneficiary of The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund, Boys & Girls Club of Hawai'i provides youth with access to meals they can count on, caring mentors who believe in them and meaningful life experiences that allow them to discover their great futures.

"We are deeply grateful for the support and generosity of The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund," said Tina Albao, Director of Development in Kaua'i. "More youth are reaching their full potential as productive, caring, and responsible citizens because of Kukui'ula's dedication to giving back to organizations like Boys & Girls Club of Hawai'i."

Since opening its first Clubhouse in 1976, Boys & Girls Club of Hawai'i has provided affordable, high-quality out-of-school programs across O'ahu and Kaua'i. Today, it operates nine Clubhouses and several school-based sites, serving over 18,000 youth annually.

Inspiring Brighter Futures through Higher Education

The Wai'ale'ale Project is a transformative scholarship and support program at Kaua'i Community College (Kaua'i CC), designed to assist Kaua'i and Ni'ihau residents — particularly those who may not have considered higher education due to financial or personal challenges — in pursuing college education. Funded by generous donors, including The Club at Kukui'ula Community Benefit Fund, the program allows eligible participants to take classes at Kaua'i CC at no cost, covering tuition, books, and fees. It has helped over 1,000 students since its inception in 2010.

With a mission to reach those who may not have otherwise considered higher education, the Wai'ale'ale Project focuses primarily on students who are the first in their families to attend college. Currently, about two-thirds of accepted students are of Native Hawaiian descent.

Tyra Nishimori, a current student from cohort 15, admitted she was initially unsure about college. "I wasn't really wanting to do this at first because I wasn't sure what I wanted to do," she said. "I was originally planning to attend a different school, but former Wai'ale'ale mentors told me how much this program could help. They were right. I wouldn't be able to be here in school without them."

Now working toward a career in veterinary medicine, Tyra said the program helped her grow both personally and academically. "This program has helped me become more responsible and able to do things on my own, but this program has also helped me apply to other scholarships to further help me in my schooling and allow me to still follow my dreams."

Mentorship is a key part of what makes the Wai'ale'ale Project so impactful. Peer mentor Joshua Pappas shared, "Once I realized that most of our students are first generation, it is awesome that I get the opportunity to guide and support them in potentially becoming the first in their family to earn a college degree."

Program staff highlighted the deeper community impact as well. "The Wai'ale'ale Project changes lives one person at a time. Over the past 15 years, it has positively impacted not only students, but their families and the wider Kaua'i community."

Established in 2010, the Wai'ale'ale Project encourages non-college-bound high school students and adults to attend and complete their first year of college. Beyond financial assistance, the program provides comprehensive academic support, including counseling, advising, and mentorship, to help students navigate the college system and achieve their educational goals. This integrated support of student success sets it apart from traditional scholarships, which often focus on funding alone.

More than just financial assistance, Kukui'ula's involvement through student visits, listening to their stories, and recognizing their progress creates a personal connection that is deeply valued by both staff and participants.

A Message from Shelly Gerardo

This year, I will have had the honor of being part of the Kukui‘ula ‘ohana for 20 years, and yet it never ceases to amaze me how fortunate I am to work alongside friends and neighbors who care so deeply for one another and our community.

As Philanthropic Giving & Office Manager, I have a front-row seat to our collective giving efforts through The Club at Kukui‘ula Community Benefit Fund, the employee Kōkua Fund and the Kukui‘ula and McBryde Resources Development Charitable Program. Our impact is truly remarkable.

Our Kōkua Fund is a member-funded, employee-directed program that awards grants to deserving nonprofits providing programs and services for youth every other month. In the last six months, Kukui‘ula employees have inspired giving to organizations such as Hawai‘i High School Rodeo Association–Kaua‘i District, Swim Kaua‘i Aquatics and sports teams and clubs at Waimea High School, Kaua‘i High School and Kapa‘a High School, helping create a brighter future for local youth.

One of my favorite quotes is from Ryunosuke Satoro, who said, “Individually, we are one drop. Together, we are an ocean.” I truly believe in the power of unity — that many hands make light work. On behalf of our work ‘ohana, we look forward to continuing to work together in service of our community.

With sincere gratitude,

The Kōkua Fund

The Kōkua Fund is a member-funded, employee-directed program that awards grants to deserving nonprofits every other month. Established by Kukui‘ula members for employees, the fund is intended to encourage volunteerism and support employees actively engaged in giving back. Kukui‘ula employees have the opportunity to nominate 501(c)3 organizations operating in the communities where they live that provide programs and services for youth on Kaua‘i to be eligible for a grant. Grantees are selected based on weighted criteria, including whether an employee volunteers with the organization.

“The Kōkua Fund has made a meaningful impact by helping local sports teams access quality equipment — something that’s often difficult to secure on the islands. This support allows our keiki to train and compete on a more level playing field with the rest of the state.

Giving back is important because every child deserves the opportunity to succeed. If I can help create that pathway, I know their future — both as athletes and individuals — will be brighter. As a longtime volunteer and soccer coach, I’ve developed a passion for mentoring young players. Watching them grow through the sport is incredibly rewarding.”
— Allan Duldulao, Culinary

“I deeply appreciate what the Kōkua Fund represents, and it’s truly inspiring to witness the meaningful ways our employees engage with the community. I’m grateful for the chance to nominate nonprofits for grant support, which directly aids or fully covers youth programs that make a lasting impact.

One example close to my heart: the Waimea High girls soccer team I coach had the incredible opportunity to compete in the state tournament on O‘ahu. Thanks to the Kōkua Fund, Kukui‘ula Development and McBryde Resources, our players had new uniforms and equipment and were able to travel at no cost to their families.

A heartfelt mahalo to BBCP and to the generous members contributing to The Club at Kukui‘ula Community Benefit Fund. It’s clear they care deeply for this island and are committed to being thoughtful, responsible stewards of our community. I hope they know just how far their support goes.”

At parks across Kaua'i, families sit on the sidelines watching keiki run up and down the gridiron and carefully choreographed cheers — it's football season. The recipient of several Kōkua Fund grants, Kaua'i Pop Warner Football League (KPWFL) oversees youth football and cheerleading programs for children aged five to 14. The league comprises five regional associations, each serving different communities across the island.

Beyond athletic development and sportsmanship, KPWFL emphasizes academic achievement and community involvement. Many of its athletes are recognized nationally for their scholastic accomplishments and service. Other benefits of participation include mental and emotional growth, building confidence and leadership skills, social development, and so much more.
